Hartzell Fan Opens New Distribution Facility

Piqua, OH – July 9, 2007 – Hartzell Fan, a leading manufacturer of industrial air moving equipment since 1927, has opened a distribution facility in Birmingham, Alabama, to better serve their customers. This new facility will stock select types of fans available in Hartzell's HRS (Hartzell Rapid Ship) Program for shipment in 48 to 72 depending upon the type of fan.

The stocking program includes industrial fans to fit numerous applications for general and process ventilation in corrosive and marine duty applications.

Hartzell's President, George Atkinson remarks, "The addition of this new distribution center provides us with the ability to help meet the fan needs of our customers located in the southeast when they need a high quality, dependable industrial fan fast. We plan on continuing to add additional products to this distribution facility over the next 12 to 18 months."

About Hartzell Fan – Hartzell Fan is headquartered in Piqua, Ohio, with a second manufacturing plant in Portland, Indiana. Hartzell Fan has been a "solution solving" fan company for over 75 years supplying high quality industrial fans and blowers. Hartzell's broad product line--general, process, corrosive resistant, heating, and specialty OEM ventilation fans—is utilized to help solve industrial air moving needs.
